beVermont is very new, it was made public in February 2024. It works very well and its main improvement we and you will notice is when more people start using it. Simple but true. The real beauty of online classifieds is that when more people join and use it, the better it gets. There will be more options where folks can sell or buy or trade items or services. And more people visiting also adjusts prices and choices of what is or is not available. This may also be the only business type, where more people mean better service.
